

Blessings from Susan Lynne

February 2009

HOORAY!

New Blog Posts.

I am feeling better and back to blogging!

Greetings!

Welcome everyone to February, our magical "2" month, in this foundation-building "2" year. As 2008 drew to a close, I had been getting messages from Raphael, as well as other angels, that my lesson, and what they wanted me to speak on, was BEING. The Universe and the Angels want us to take it down a notch; just be in the moment, and live from the inside out.

This became crystal clear to me when I started to work on this newsletter. I started to look into what makes February so special. The more I read, the broader the meaning of February became. Did you know that this sensible month of focus and foundation encompasses: "Black History Month", "National Grapefruit Month", "National Snack Food Month", "National Wedding Month", and "Creative Romance Month"?

Valentine's Day is also "National Ferris Wheel Day" (which leaves me speechless) and February 16th is "Do a Grouch a Favor Day". This leaves us with: "National Blah Buster's Month", "National Embroidery Youth Month" and last, but not least, "International Twit Award Month".

As I was reading this list, the urgency of the message of BEING became very clear. Yes, I love a grand celebration and a chance to pull out the party hats as much as the next person, but...it's in the silence and the quiet of being, when we truly experience the mystery and wonder that God, The Universe, and our Angels have in store for us. This is when we feel the sunrise, hear the whispers of the wind, sense the energy of those who have been before, and absorb the wisdom about. So take time today to just be.

PATIENCE

I have been struck the last two months with the large number of people I have been speaking to regarding PATIENCE. Archangel Asmodel, who rules the sign of Taurus and is the Angel of Patience, would like you to understand - it is not how fast or slow, high or low, rich or poor, strong or weak, quiet or chatty, confident or unsure, right or wrong, steady or wobbly you may be. To learn and grow in PATIENCE is totally and solely about BEING.

It is in the energy of being that we realize that everything has a reason, a time, and a place. It is all a part of the Divine Order. Instead of micro-managing moments; drop your oars, go with the current, and enjoy the view that is Asmodel's wish for you.

I would like to take this time to thank each and everyone who sent me well-wishes during my period of illness. I was totally overwhelmed. I received hundreds of messages of prayer, light and healing. It is slow going but I will respond to each and everyone.

During the time when the Angels temporarily placed me on injured-reserve, it gave me pause. In the words of my wise webmaster, it will make a great blog! The next few days I am going to be back on the blog bandwagon, so please drop by and catch up.

Remember, again, the secret is BEING . . . and while you are mastering PATIENCE, be patient with yourself.

Angel Blessings,

Susan Lynne
